

About Us

Sunno started BABS during the winter of 2004-2005 in the Skullbocks Source Server with Badkula and Terpinator. It all had started because Skullbocks players never played their source server. All they played was 1.6. So the source server would constantly have cheaters, aimbots, etc. Azrael eventually joined up. This led to Swede and Litany coming along next. He doesn't really remember the order after that. But eventually he bought admin to the server...got tired of Skullbocks and purchased our own. After Sunnos video card blew up, which forced him to retire for about 2 years. In his absence Puncher took over. For a while things were great. The pub was active, forums thriving, and we even got around to added different mods to the server to keep things interesting. Later, things came up and Puncher moved into a new house without internet. Maniac started taking over payments for the pub and private with the help of Waffles and the rest of the BABS team. We are going stronger then ever before. New site, some what new forums, and a bunch of great new members. Everyones enjoying themselves and everything is how it should be. All thanks to Sunno.
